

Computerworld Readers' Choice Awards 2006

UPDATED 21 APRIL 2006

Computerworld Readers' Choice Awards 2006 Call for Nominations

The nomination list for the 2006 Computerworld Readers' Choice Awards covers products and players in over 40 categories.

In the run-up to the voting season which kicks off in April, we would like to invite IT professionals in Singapore to nominate products or service providers which they think should be in the running for a particular award category (categories).

The Award categories and the nominated products are listed below.

To add a product or vendor to the list of nominees, please send an email to computerworldawards@idg.com.sg indicating clearly the specific product category and the nominated product name or service provider.

The list will be updated based on inputs that we receive.

THE CONTENDERS

Service Providers

c) Category: Managed connectivity services

Description: Includes IP/Internet and data services, end-to-end network and CPE monitoring and management.

- * Asia Netcom
- * AT&T Singapore
- * BT Global Managed Services (available from StarHub)
- * Cable & Wireless
- * Datacraft
- * KDDI Singapore
- * LGA Telecom
- * NTT Arcstar Global Managed Services (available from StarHub)
- * Singapore Telecommunications
- * T-Systems Singapore

Source: ComputerWorld Online <http://203.120.127.228/Event.aspx?name=CWAwards_Nomination_2006>

The nomination list for the 11th Computerworld Readers' Choice Awards 2006 covers products and players in over 40 categories. Computerworld Readers' Choice Awards has always been focused on feedback from end-user organisations, polling the views of IT managers and users who have worked up close and personal with the products and service providers listed in the Awards survey.

LGA Telecom is proud to be on the list and will continue to strive for continued excellence in quality and customer satisfaction.

